To facilitate the learning of the notes the pupil must learn well the musical alphabet: c d e f g a b in succession as well as in thirds: ce gb df ac, backward and forward, and must apply this to the notes and keys.

Zur leichten Erlernung der Noten muss der Schüler das musikalische Alphabet: c d e f g a h, nach Terzenschritten: ce gh df ac, vorwärts und rückwärts geläufig hersagen lernen und dies auf die Tasten und Noten anwenden.

Pour faciliter l'étude des notes l'élève doit bien apprendre l'alphabet musical: do, re, mi, fa, sol, la, si, dans leur ordre naturel aussi bien qu'en tierces: do-mi, sol-si, ré-fa, la-do, tant en montant qu'en descendant, et doit s'appliquer aux notes et au clavier.

EXERCISES
for the hand at rest.

To make all the fingers of both hands of equal strength and independence the following exercise must be practiced with each hand alone and then with both hands together, until they can be played without constraint and with proper fluency. Take particular care that the hands are held quietly, and that the fingers are raised lightly and do not remain longer on the keys than is necessary.

UBUNGEN
mit stillstehender Hand.

Um allen Fingern beider Hände gleiche Kraft und Unabhängigkeit zu verschaffen, müssen diese Übungen anfangs mit jeder Hand einzeln, dann mit beiden zusammen so lange geübt werden, bis sie ohne Zwang und mit gehöriger Rundung vorgetragen werden. Besonders erinnere man sich dabei der Regel, die Hände ganz ruhig zu halten, die Finger leicht fortzubewegen und sie nicht länger auf den Tasten liegen zu lassen, als es nötig ist.

à main posée.

Pour donner à tous les doigts des deux mains une même force et de l'indépendance, il faut d'abord jouer ces exercices d'une seule main, puis des deux ensemble jusqu'à ce qu'ils soient joués sans raideur. Que l'on ait soin surtout de tenir les mains bien tranquilles, de lever les doigts légérèment, et de ne pas les laisser sur les touches plus longtemps qu'il n'est nécessaire.

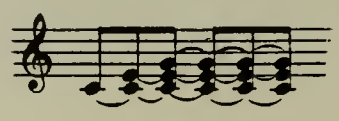
*) Notes, which, if played at the same time, form an harmonic chord, are frequently played "legatissimo." This is accomplished by allowing the fingers to remain on their respective keys. (See example).

*) Accordische Figuren (d. i. nacheinanderfolgende Töne, welche zusammen angeschlagen einen harmonischen Accord bilden) werden öfters "legatissimo" gespielt; dies geschieht, indem man die Töne eines Accordes dauernd festhält, hier z. B. so:



*) Des notes qui, frappées à la fois, forment un accord harmonique, se jouent fréquemment "legatissimo." Dans ce cas, les doigts doivent rester appliqués aux touches respectives.
